Biography

Rock band DemiVoix prides themselves on shattering musical expectations. From a classical conservatory pianist to a grunge guitarist, each member of the band brings their own expertise to create an awe-inspiring, occasionally weird whole. Preconceptions are best left at the door. DemiVoix is based in Orange County, California; their self-titled EP released in 2019.

Members:

Drums/Vocals :: Bon

Press / Guesting

"... The name's significance to the band's sound is a testament to how the group writes and plays their original songs - a compromise of not just polarizing styles but varied member personalities, all encouraged to meet "halfway" to achieve their goal. This translates to a unique sound that not only pleases fans of the styles they amalgamated, but making new fans from the combined approach."
